

IDAHO FIRST BANK

PEOPLE FIRST. COMMUNITY FIRST. IDAHO FIRST.

It's not just a mantra we state in marketing materials, it's something we live by. And with the ever changing landscape that has come with the recent Covid-19/Coronavirus news, we foster this way of life even more.

Which is why we have developed a series of support options that will help customers get through this difficult season.

As a community bank, we take a very personalized approach to how we serve our customers rather than having a "one-size-fits-all" approach. This could include anything from deferred payment options where necessary, allowing early withdrawal on CD's without penalties and/or low interest lines of credit for those needing extra financial support at this time. It's also why we are calling on our customers personally...because we want to check on them and see how they are doing and how we can walk alongside them to get through this together.

Should you need anything at all, reach out...we are here.
